Sec. 3. All mortgages upon which such tax has been paid, with the debts or obligations secured thereby and the papers evidencing the same, shall be exempt from all other taxes; but nothing herein shall exempt such property from the operation of the laws relating to the taxation of gifts and inheritances, or those governing the taxation of banks, savings banks, or trust companies. Provided, that this act shall not apply to mortgages taken in good faith by persons or corporations whose personal property is expressly exempted from taxation by law, or is taxed upon the basis of gross earnings, or other methods of commutation in lieu of all other taxes.

Sec. 4. If a mortgage is made by a corporation to a mortgagee in trust, to secure the payment of bonds or other obligations to be issued thereafter, a statement may be incorporated therein of the amount of such obligations already issued or to be issued forthwith, and the tax to be paid on filing such mortgage for record shall be computed upon the amount so stated. Such statement shall be binding and conclusive upon all persons claiming through or under the mortgage, and no such obligation issued in excess of the aggregate so fixed shall be valid for any purpose unless the additional tax thereon be paid and the receipt of the proper county treasurer therefor be endorsed thereon.

Sec. 5. The tax imposed by this act shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which the mortgaged land or some part thereof is situated, at or before the time of filing the mortgage for record. The treasurer shall endorse his receipt on the mortgage, countersigned by the county auditor, who shall charge the amount to the treasurer, and such receipt shall be recorded with the mortgage, and such receipt or the record thereof shall be conclusive proof that the tax has been paid to the amount therein stated, and shall authorize any register of deeds to record the mortgage. Its form in substance shall be "registration tax hereon of dollars paid." If the mortgage be exempt from taxation the endorsement shall be "exempt from registration tax" to be signed in either case by the treasurer as such, and in case of payment to be countersigned by the auditor. In case the treasurer shall be unable to determine whether a claim of exemption should be allowed the tax shall be paid to the clerk of the district court of the county to abide the order of such court made upon motion of the county attorney or of the claimant upon notice as required by the court. When any such mortgage covers real property situate in more than one county in this state the whole of such tax shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county where the mortgage is first presented for record, and the payment shall be receipted and countersigned as above provided, and such tax shall be divided and paid over by the county treasurer receiving the same on or before the tenth day of each month after receipt thereof the county or counties entitled thereto in the ratio which the assessed value of the real property covered by the mortgage in each county bears to the assessed value of all the property described in the mortgage. In making such division and payments the county treasurer shall send therewith a statement giving the description of the property described in the mortgage and the assessed value of the part thereof situate in each county. And for the purpose aforesaid the county treasurer of any county may require the county treasurer of any other county to certify to him the assessed valuation of any tract of land in any such mortgage.

Sec. 6. When any real estate situate in this state and described in any such mortgage is not taxed by direct tax upon the assessed valuation thereof, then the tax herein provided shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the general revenue fund. The receipt thereof shall be endorsed upon the mortgage by the state treasurer and countersigned by the state auditor, who shall charge the treasurer therewith, and thereupon such mortgage shall be recorded as to such real estate in any office in this state and thereupon such mortgage may be recorded, but as to all real property described in any mortgage taxed upon an assessed valuation the registry tax shall be paid as provided in section 5 hereof.

Sec. 7. No such mortgage, no papers relating to its foreclosure, nor any assignment or satisfaction thereof shall be recorded on or after July 1st, 1907, unless said tax shall have been paid; nor shall any such document, or any record thereof, be received in evidence in any court, or have any validity as notice or otherwise.

Sec. 8. All mortgages of real estate recorded prior to July 1st, 1907, shall be taxable as provided by law under the provisions of law relating thereto prior to the enactment hereof. Provided, that the holder of any such mortgage may pay to the treasurer of the proper county, or the state treasurer, or both, the tax herein prescribed upon the amount of the debt secured by such mortgage at the time of such payment, as stated by the affidavit of the owner of such mortgage, to be filed with the county treasurer, and have the treasurer's receipt countersigned by the auditor endorsed thereon. The register of deeds or secretary of state, as the case may be, on presentation of such receipt shall note on the margin of the mortgage record the date and amount of such payment. Thereafter such mortgage debt shall not be otherwise taxable.

Sec. 9. All taxes paid to the county treasurers under the provisions of this act shall be apportioned and distributed in the same manner as real estate taxes paid upon the real estate described in the mortgage.

Sec. 10. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after June 30th, 1907.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor:

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ST. PAUL, April 15, 1907.

Hon. Adolph O. Eberhart, President of the Senate,

Sir: I herewith return S. F. No. 237 without my approval for the following reasons:

The purpose of the law requiring the publication of statements of condition of insurance companies is to give the widest possible publicity of the financial condition of insurance companies to the public generally, and to the policy holders especially. This purpose would be totally set aside by the provisions of S. F. No. 237, which permits the publication of the statements in a paper which has no circulation with the general public, but the circulation of which is limited entirely to insurance agencies, and this act instead of promoting the publicity desired, would give to the insurance companies the opportunity of really concealing their financial condition from the public.

Very respectfully,

JOHN A. JOHNSON,
Governor.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE.

MR. PRESIDENT: I have the honor to announce the passage by the House of the following Senate Files:

WHEREAS, The public press of the nation has been and is teeming with personal, infamous and virulent attacks made by E. H. Harriman and his crowd, instituted for the purpose of casting slurs and insinuations reflecting upon the veracity of our president, Theodore Roosevelt, thereby seeking to imperil the integrity of the nation,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that we heartily commend the heroic efforts being put forth by our president in his endeavor to regulate the railroad traffic and suppress the lawlessness with which it abounds, thereby emulating the immortal Washington, who said, "Eternal vigilance is the salvation of the nation."

Resolved, Further, That we respectfully request our Senators and Representatives to Congress to assist our president in passing laws to efficiently control by government the highways of commerce and to keep them open to all our citizens on equal terms, and to regulate all corporations engaged in interstate business, thereby insuring a square deal to all;

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The sub-committee to investigate the coal and lumber alleged combinations to the restraint of trade beg to submit the following report:

Your sub-committee first took up the investigation of the coal combine. We examined, under oath, the managing officer of the Northwestern Retail Coal Dealers' Assn., who delivered to the committee a copy of the articles of association of the said association, and who claimed that the object of the association was to furnish to the wholesale coal dealers information relative to the equipment of retail dealers, and that the association attempted to maintain the usual business relations between wholesaler and retailer, thereby preventing, if possible, the sale by wholesalers direct to consumer, and that the association was not violating by so doing any law, either federal or state, but strenuously claimed that the association had nothing to do with the fixing of prices either to retailer or consumer, and your committee was not able to establish the fact, if it be a fact, that said association had anything to do with the question of prices.

Your committee next examined agents and representatives of the wholesale dealers in coal, all of whom were non-resident corporations, and were only able to elicit from the agents and representatives that they simply followed instructions received from such non-resident corporations.

Your committee is unanimously of the opinion that the wholesale coal companies have a combination among themselves whereby the prices on coal are made uniform to all retailers in the State of Minnesota.

The profits made by the retailers in coal, which, in the parlance of the business, is termed "a dollar off," is not, in the opinion of your committee, unreasonable.

Your committee next took up the investigation of the alleged lumber combine, and examined the managing officer of the Northwestern Lumbermen's Assn., who delivered to your committee the articles of association of said association, and claimed that the association carried out the purposes of the association as set forth in said articles, and was chiefly engaged in disseminating knowledge to wholesalers and retailers that would maintain proper business relations between wholesalers and retailers, and prevent, if possible, the sale of lumber by the wholesaler direct to consumer.

The officer examined claimed that this was not in violation of any state or federal statute, and further claimed, and your committee was unable to obtain any evidence that the association had anything to do with the regulation of the prices of lumber to the retailer or consumer.

Your committee also examined the managing officer of the Northern Pine Manufacturers' Assn., who presented us with the articles of association of his company and claimed that the company had not at any time exceeded the limitations of the articles of association, and that he disseminated knowledge for the benefit of the trade generally, and had nothing whatever to do with fixing the prices of lumber, and your committee was unable to establish by evidence that the contrary was proved.

It appeared in evidence before your committee that about 95 per cent of the lumber supply in the State of Minnesota was owned by five or six wholesalers, and that the demand now being greater than the supply the wholesalers now have it practically in their power to fix the prices of lumber, and with such power there is undoubtedly no competition among the wholesalers themselves, but that by combination and understanding they fix prices of lumber, but your committee was unable to get any positive evidence of this fact.

Your committee also examined witnesses with reference to the combination of retailers in villages and cities of this state, and are of the opinion that in most, if not all, localities the retailers combine among themselves, and sell at uniform prices, dividing up the business by secret and mutual understandings that destroy competition. These local combinations are peculiar to each different locality and no evidence was adduced before your committee which tended to show that the retailers at any particular place were making unreasonable profits.

As a conclusion, your committee would report that in their opinion large lumber companies have cornered the supply of lumber in this state and are thereby enabled to fix prices, and with the limited time at the disposal of your committee they were not able to get positive evidence of any combinations in restraint of trade, but are unanimous in the opinion that such combinations exist.

Your committee has in its possession all of the documentary evidence, including the correspondence and articles of incorporations of the association above referred to, and would suggest that these be placed at the disposal of the attorney general of the state with the view that if the claims of these different associations are unfounded, and not a correct statement of their legal rights, that such action be taken as will enforce the laws of the State of Minnesota.

Respectfully submitted,

W. A. NOLAN,
ELIAS RACHIE,
JOHN C. DALZELL,
L. O. THORPE,
H. E. HANSON.

Mr. Calhoun submitted the following report, and moved that 500 copies of same be printed in pamphlet form, and that the exhibits accompanying same be filed with and deposited in the archives of the state in the office of the secretary of state,

Which motion prevailed.

REPORT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE TO INVESTIGATE THE RULES, PRACTICES,
METHODS AND WORK OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF MINNEAPOLIS AND THE BOARD OF TRADE OF DULUTH.

Your Committee beg to report that pursuant to resolutions adopted by the House of Representatives and Senate, providing that a Committee of fifteen (15) be appointed, that said Committee of Fifteen delegated to the undersigned committee, the work of investigating the rules, methods etc., of the grain exchange as described above.

As your committee report that pursuant to such resolutions, this undersigned sub-committee held various sessions and called before them various witnesses from different parts of the State of Minnesota and have listened to all the evidence offered on the part of these witnesses, all of which is herewith submitted.

Your committee report that among the witnesses so giving testimony before this committee were the Secretaries of these two exchanges, country elevator dealers, country elevator owners, commission merchants, bankers, millers, members of the Farmers' Grain Exchange, etc.

And your committee reports that these witnesses were subjected to examination and cross-examination under oath and that as a result of such testimony, it appears that these grain exchanges have been organized for the purpose of facilitating trade, for the settlement of disputes, of providing rules under which business shall be transacted, etc.; that neither of these grain exchanges are engaged in any way in the purchase or sale of grain or any commodity, the object of their work being simply that of furnishing facilities to their various members and surrounding these members with various safe methods and to establish rules governing business transactions. It has systematized its business so that business people can market volumes of grain readily and convert it into money with a less amount of friction and expense than ever before.

Your committee feel that the development of the grain business has been materially helped by the organization of these Exchanges and that they have been one of the causes that has greatly developed the whole Northwest. These Exchanges provide a place where grain can be bought and sold; it gathers together at these places the buyers and sellers and among these buyers and sellers are those whose scope of prices extend beyond the confines of this country; among the facilities offered by each of these Exchanges is the information openly given to all members of the conditions of the various markets of the world at all times. The competition of these Exchanges is open and keen. The membership of each of the Exchanges includes millers, elevator owners, grain commission merchants, linseed oil manufacturers, bankers, cereal manufacturers, etc.; many of the members of each of these Exchanges residing at other points than at the terminal markets; the competition in the purchase and sale of all grain in each of these Exchanges is so open, the interests represented in the Exchange itself are so varied, the rules making the transactions so certain and the high standard of business integrity maintained by each of these Exchanges, that it seems to this committee that the result of the existence and work of these Exchanges has a very small possibility of being hostile to the best interests of the producers of grain in this State.

Your committee report that there are five hundred and fifty (550) memberships in the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis and that there are two hundred (200) memberships in the Board of Trade of Duluth and that all of these memberships are issued. That in order to obtain admission to either of these Exchanges, a membership certificate must first be bought and an application be made to the Exchange for membership, which application is finally passed upon by the Board of Directors, it requiring a majority (and not less than seven (7) affirmative votes) to entitle the applicant to admission.

It appears clearly to your committee that while among some of our citizens there is a prevalent contention that the grain market is, in a sense, controlled by these two Exchanges, yet it is evident that the reason for such opinion is based upon the fact that these Exchanges gather together the buyers and sellers of all grains and that therefore any one having grain to sell, naturally goes to these Exchanges, simply because, if for no other reason, that all the buyers and sellers of grain are in the market. It is a matter of convenience as well as expedition for either buyers or sellers to be members of either of these Exchanges. Each Exchange provides a definite rate of commission to be charged, which is one cent on wheat and barley and one-half cent on oats, etc., and also provides that members can do business for other members at one-half the regular rate, but it is also apparent that unless the transactions are very large, the interest on an investment of a membership being considered and the various costs and expenses attendant upon the conducting of the business is considered, that there is a very slight difference as to the cost between being a member and a non-member. It also appears that by virtue of the high standard of business integrity maintained by these Exchanges, that the farmer and country shipper can, to a very great degree of safety, rely upon the honesty of such commission merchant with whom he does business.

It also appears to your committee from the evidence, that the movement of the grain crop of the Northwest requires very large sums of money and it also appears that the commission merchants of these Exchanges not only act as grain receivers, that is as the trusted agents of shippers in receiving their grain and selling the same, but that they also to a very large degree advance money to these shippers in advance of shipments. It appearing that at certain times of the year an amount of money as great as ten or twelve million dollars is loaned by these commission merchants of the two Exchanges to the grain dealers at country points throughout the Northwest and at a reasonable rate of interest. It being impossible for these country grain dealers to get the necessary financial assistance from their own country banks because of the fact that no country bank, and in fact no bank, can loan to any one concern only a certain fraction of its capital. The commission merchants are therefore to a large degree sustaining grain dealers at country points, in a financial way and it is apparent that the commission merchants, who are likewise borrowers of large sums of money themselves, are enabled to get this money which they loan in this way, from the banks of the larger cities, because of the fact that they are members of these Exchanges and that these Exchanges themselves act as strong forces in building up proper business methods and principles and thus in a very large degree aid their members in their standing with the lending world. The testimony of the bankers offered before this committee clearly shows this phase of the work of these Exchanges. It also shows that it enables dealers of grain to so hedge their deals that at no time are they speculating on the market or affected by the fluctuations of the markets and they are thus enabled to show to the large bankers that they are at all times secure and at no time are they running risk of being bankrupted on account of the sudden change in value.

It appears that the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis expend between thirty and forty thousand dollars every year in information which is disseminated among its members advising them of the various facts and situations of the markets throughout the world, thus enabling the producer of grain to keep thoroughly posted as to the market conditions of the entire globe.

It appears that the grain trade of the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis has grown from seventeen million bushels of grain in 1881 to one hundred and thirty million bushels in 1906, and the Board of Trade of Duluth has seen its grain business grow from three and a half millions in 1881 to eighty million bushels in 1906, thus it can readily be seen that since the organization of these grain Exchanges that the grain trade has developed greatly in the Northwest.

Your committee feels that while perhaps they have not had the time to minutely investigate all the phases and charges that have been made against these different Exchanges, yet they feel sufficiently well informed on the subject now under investigation to add the following as their deduction of the evidence by the different parties who have been summoned to testify before this committee. A copy of all this evidence offered and all the rules, regulations and by-laws, together with the Articles of Incorporation of both these Exchanges, is hereto attached and made a part of this report.

Your committee, however, although being satisfied that these grain Exchanges have been in their operation and are now, productive of great benefits, yet your committee is inclined to believe, in respect to the matter of admission to membership of applicants, that the methods of election of such applicant should be broadened and so enlarged that it should be dependent upon a vote of a larger proportion of the members of the Exchanges than at the present time, and so that the question of refusing or receiving an applicant for membership would be passed upon by a larger number of the members than is now required by the rules of the Exchanges.

Your committee are also of the opinion that it might be wise and desirable for these Exchanges to so enlarge their authorized memberships so that they could be more readily purchased by any possible applicant.

J. F. CALHOUN,
Chairman.

J. A. GATES,
Secretary,

T. M. PUGH,
JNO. G. LENNON,
H. O. HANSON,
Committee.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Minnesota:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned Committee, appointed by resolution adopted January 29th, 1907, to investigate the reasonableness of rates charged by express companies doing business in this state, respectfully submit the following report:

Your committee examined a large number of witnesses in this investigation, and also had a number of conferences with the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners, and as a result of such investigation and conferences with said Commissioners, said Commission did on the 28th day of February, 1907, issue the following order, reducing the schedule of rates charged by express companies in this state:

BEFORE THE RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA.

In the Matter of the Investigation of the Reasonableness of the Tariff Rates and Charges of the Express Companies Hereinafter Named, Doing Business in the State of Minnesota, on All Classes of Property Carried by Said Companies Between Stations in Said State.

The matter came before the Commission for hearing May 15th, 1906, and was continued from time to time with final hearing February 26th, 1907, after due notice being given to all the companies affected by this order. The several express companies appeared as follows:

Wells-Fargo—J. H. Ludlow, Traffic Manager; C. W. Stockton, Assistant to President.

National—By J. H. Bradley.

American—J. H. Bradley, General Traffic Manager.

United States—C. H. Crossby, Vice-president and General Manager; M. T. Jones, Traffic Manager; J. L. Tate, General Auditor.

Northern—J. M. Hannaford, President.

Canadian Northern—By J. M. Hannaford, President.

Great Northern—W. R. Begg, General Solicitor; D. S. Elliot, General Manager.

Western—D. S. Stout, General Manager; S. A. Davis, Superintendent.

Adams—J. Zimmerman, Superintendent of Traffic.

The Commission submitted to said companies a schedule of what it deemed to be a reasonable maximum rate on merchandise carried by the express companies between stations to the State of Minnesota on the several lines of railroad over which said companies operate, which schedule is heretofore annexed, marked Exhibit "A" and made a part of this order, and the rates named in said schedule are found by the Commission to be reasonable maximum rates for the transportation of merchandise by each of said express companies between station in the State of Minnesota.

The above named express companies agreed to abide by said schedule and accept and put the same into effect within forty days after the service of this order.

It is therefore ordered, that the merchandise rates shown by Exhibit "A" be and the same are hereby established as reasonable maximum rates for the transportation of merchandise by all the express companies above named, between all stations on the respective lines operated by them in the State of Minnesota, and said companies are hereby required to put said rates into effect within forty days after the service of this order.

In the application of the rules herein specified, the express companies and each of them shall observe the provisions of Section 2017 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for the year 1905, known as the long and short haul clause.

Each of the express companies are hereby required to keep at each station or office, where it does business in this state, in some convenient place in charge of their agent, all their tariffs of rates between stations in Minnesota for the inspection and use of the public during business hours, and shall post in some conspicuous place in said station or office where the business of said company is done, a notice station where said schedule can be inspected, and when any change of rates, changes of classification is made affecting rates in this state, said company shall post a notice as aforesaid, stating that there has been a change in the rates or classifications as may be, and that the same may be seen by the public upon application.

Dated St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 28th, 1907.

By order of the Commission,
A. C. CLAUSEN,
Secretary.

The rates on butter, eggs, poultry, meat, fish, oysters, fruit, vegetables and all other commodities listed as "General Specials" in the express classification to be made upon the basis shown in Scale "N" of the classifications.

Your Committee further reports that said Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners had partially considered the matter of investigation of express charges prior to the appointment of your Committee, and that said Commissioners had prior to the appointment of this Committee had several hearings on said express rates, that your Committee found that the reason said rates had not been fully investigated prior to the appointment of this Committee was that said Commissioners had been overworked in the matter of investigating railroad freight rates, and when express matters were brought to the attention of said Commissioners, they immediately took active steps to reduce the express rates and to equalize them throughout the State on the different railroads.

Your Committee found the Commissioners courteous and willing to do all in their power to investigate rates and to make such reductions as they thought proper. Your Committee does, however, believe that they were instrumental in aiding the Commissioners in bringing about quicker results in forcing the express companies in accepting the rates ordered by the Commissioners than would have been accomplished had not your Committee been appointed and taken active steps to reduce express charges.

The rates as now put in force by the Commissioners are a very material reduction of express rates heretofore charged in the Northern parts of the State, and are a reasonable reduction on the rates heretofore charged in the Southern part of the State. The rates, shown in the schedules hereto attached and ordered to be put in force by the Commission, have all been accepted by the express companies doing business in this State, are now in force and have been since April 10th inst.

The great point attained by the Commission in these new rates is uniform and equal rates established by all express companies throughout the State. While your Committee believe in certain instances express rates now in force should be reduced, we believe that much good has been accomplished by the investigation and the new order put in force, and that the Board of Commissioners are now in a better position to equalize and correct unequal express rates than ever before in the history of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK CLAGUE,

H. H. WITHERSTINE,

On the part of the Senate.

DONALD ROBERTSON,

SWAN NELSON,

J. F. CONROY,

On the part of the House.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

ST. PAUL, April 23, 1907.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

Under joint resolution of your bodies introduced January 18, 1907, looking to an investigation into the operations of "the alleged coal combine" and into "the alleged lumber combine," and into the operations of the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis and Board of Trade of Duluth, and into the operations of and the constitution of the International Harvester Co. and the International Harvester Co. of America, a committee was duly appointed whereof the undersigned and wherefrom the undersigned were appointed a sub-committee as related to the investigation of said International Harvester Company and said International Harvester Co. of America and the testimony taken by this sub-committee warrants the following facts and findings:

I. That prior to 1902, during a period of more than 20 years, the Plano Manufacturing Company of Chicago, Illinois, the Warder-Bushnell & Glessner Company of Springfield, Ohio, the Milwaukee Harvester Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the Deering Harvester Company (and its predecessor company Wm. Deering & Co.) of Chicago, Illinois, and the McCormick Harvester Machine

Company of Chicago, Illinois, having among and between them, separately held of course, an aggregated share of capital of less than $15,000,000, though possessed of greater wealth of course, were open and aggressive competitors in the manufacture and sale of all kinds of grain binders, corn harvesters, mowers, hay rakes, and other farm implements, and together with D. M. Osborne & Co. of Auburn, New York, and the Acme Harvester Company of Pekin, Illinois, constituted essentially all of the competitors, doing business in the Northwest, in the way of the manufacture and sale of grain binders, corn harvesters, mowers, etc., etc., and at all times during the period of the time above referred to said incorporated companies were open and aggressive competitors in that field of enterprise and the agricultural interests benefited thereby to such an extent that during 1901 and in several previous years the farmers of the Northwest were enabled to purchase machines of the kind above herein referred to at prices lower than those now prevailing by about 25 to 35 per cent.

2. That early in 1902 said incorporated companies other than Wm. Deering & Co., which had gone into liquidation, and D. M. Osborne & Company, which was still doing business, but which at that time was not included in the combination, under the trust sheltering laws of the State of New Jersey, confederated themselves together and constituted and organized and incorporated a holding company named and styled International Harvester Company of New Jersey, nominally capitalized at $120,000,000.00 of six per cent per annum cumulative dividend bearing shares of capital stock—thus clearly indicating an initial purpose of fixing and foisting and fastening upon the agricultural interests of the country an annual tax in the way of profits to be made upon the machines manufactured and sold to the public annually thereafter, equal to $7,200,000.000—the charter providing for the issuance of further and additional stock or shares of stock to correspond with any further or future increase of the nominal capitalization of the said corporation which might be later determined to be advisable or desirable. This New Jersey combination, since its organization, has completely owned and controlled, managed and operated the five incorporated companies referred to as constituting the same, that is to say, the Plano Manufacturing Company, the Deering Harvester Company, the Milwaukee Harvester Company, the Warden-Bushnell & Glessner Company, and the McCormick Harvester Machine Company, and the management and control thereof is in effect vested in a voting trust constituted of three men of whom one lives in Chicago, and two in New York City,—one of the latter being chairman of the executive committee of the Board of Directors and the president of the Board of Directors of the United States Steel Corporation, which fact in and of itself well enough indicates the close working and business alliance between the said International Harvester Company of New Jersey and the said United States Steel Corporation.

3. During 1903 this New Jersey combination which controls not alone the manufacture and sale of binders, mowers, harvesters, etc., etc., but also the binding twine trade (excepting to the extent that in this state our factory at Stillwater for the manufacture and sale of binding twine operates as a barometer of binding twine prices in this state) secured control of said D. M. Osborne & Company, the Sterling Manufacturing Company, and sundry smaller enterprises, since which year, this combination has for all practical purposes, been in absolute control of the manufacture and sale of harvesting machines of the kind above herein referred to,—and also in control of the manufacture and sale of binding twine excepting to the extent that in this state as before stated, the sale of binding twine is largely regulated by our Stillwater prison plant manufacturing the same.

It is true that the Walter A. Wood Mowing and Reaping Machine Company of Hoosick Falls, New York, the Johnson Harvester Company of Batavia, New York, and the Odriance-Platte Company of Poughkeepsie, New York, are still in existence and doing business independently of said International Harvester Company of New Jersey, in the territory lying to the eastward of the State of Ohio; but said companies do not undertake to operate, and it is said and the evidence well shows, that they dare not undertake to operate in the territory of the Northwest.

It is also true that the Acme Harvester Company is still in existence and during the past three years has been about the only Harvester Company which has at all undertaken to compete in Minnesota with the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, in the sale of harvesters and binders,—and said Acme Harvester Company has until quite recently been in the hands of a receiver and has passed through a receiver's sale—so that, in effect, the said International Harvester Company of New Jersey, controls, and long has controlled, in the Northwest, the sale of harvesting machinery of the kinds above herein referred to, and arbitrarily dictates, the prices and the terms of sales thereof, and its voting trust, composed of three men, as stated, in effect determines how many Deering binders or Deering mowers or Plano binders or Plano mowers or McCormick binders or McCormick mowers or Milwaukee binders or Milwaukee mowers or Champion binders or Champion mowers (the machines manufactured by the Warder-Bushnell & Glessner Company are known to the trade as Champion binders, the Champion mowers, etc., etc.) shall be manufactured or marketed in any one year, and the prices and terms of the sales thereof, and there is absolutely no competition between said companies or either two of them for that all of them are absolutely held, owned, controlled and managed by the said New Jersey trust combination which in turn is managed and controlled by its voting trust aforesaid.

4. Said International Harvester Company of New Jersey through fear of our anti-trust laws, particularly 5168 and 5169 of the Revised Laws of 1905, to which it seems well to invite the careful and thoughtful attention of the several county attorneys of the several counties of this state and to their several duties thereunder, and also to avoid taxation, and for divers other reasons, does not directly do business in this state, but does business in this state through and in the name of two different corporations absolutely owned and controlled however by said International Harvester Company of New Jersey.

One of said two corporations is the International Harvester Company of America—a Wisconsin corporation nominally capitalized at $2,000,000, through which and in whose name all business of said New Jersey corporation not transacted through or in the name of the International Flax Twine Company of St. Paul, in the Northwest, is transacted.

The other of said two corporations through which and in whose name said International Harvester Company of New Jersey operates in the manufacture and sale of so-called soft fiber binding twines,—twines manufactured out of mixtures of home grown flax fiber, pineapple fiber and manila fiber,—and which soft fiber binding twine venture was entered upon by said International Harvester Company in New Jersey, in the State of Minnesota, as the evidence well shows, for the underlying purpose of crippling and destroying Minnesota's hard fiber binding twine factory at Stillwater, Minnesota,—accomplishing that result through ruinous competition, and perceiving that fact, this legislature has wisely revised and re-enacted the law of this state relative to the manufacture and sale of hard fiber binding twine so that while hereafter as hitherto, the farmers may purchase their binding twine direct from the Warden of the State Prison at the same price at which the twine will be supplied to local dealers, nevertheless so that local dealers will be, and are, interested in the sale thereof, and will handle, and are handling, state manufactured twine in competition with trust made twine,—and so that the state may, whenever it seems advisable or desirable go outside of Minnesota, to sell whatever, if any, surplus twine in the state may at any time have on hand,—selling the same wherever the same may be advantageously sold.

In that relation, it is well enough here to say that it is the expectation that the output of manufactured hard fiber binding twine manufactured at the Stillwater factory, will be early increased to around seventeen million five hundred thousand pounds annually,—or to substantially three-fourths the amount of the average annual consumption of binding twine in Minnesota.

5. Recognizing the fact that the manufacture and sale of harvesters, binders and mowers is in Minnesota effectually within the control of said International Harvester Company of New Jersey, operating as stated through the International Harvester Company of America, and that all competition in relation thereto, is effectually dead or is in effect dead, and that as a consequent result thereof, the farmers of Minnesota are being taxed substantially two prices therefor, and recognizing the existence of a demand among the farmers throughout the state for relief in relation thereto, this Legislature has wisely conceived and enacted a law whereby the State Board of Control is expressly authorized and empowered to construct, equip and afterwards maintain and operate at the prison plant at Stillwater, a factory for the manufacture of binders, harvesters, mowers and rakes to be sold to the farmers of Minnesota through local dealers at the several market points, duly appointed for that purpose by the State Board of Control operating under such regulations as the State Board of Control may adopt in relation thereto, and it is confidently expected that the due execution of this law will result at an early future date in giving to the farmers of Minnesota substantial and adequate relief from the extortions of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey in relation thereto; but in this connection, it seems well to advise and to recommend that before adjournment, this Legislature adopt a suitable resolution (such as we will herewith present) instructing said State Board of Control forthwith to duly investigate and inquire into the feasibility of the manufacture of binders at the State Prison at Stillwater in order that before the funds of the State, or any thereof, are or may be invested in a factory for the purpose stated, it may be first ascertained that such manufacture is not only desirable but feasible.

6. It should be further stated, for the evidence well establishes the fact, that said International Harvester Company of New Jersey operating in Minnesota, as stated in the name of the International Flax Twine Company of St. Paul, as to the manufacture and sale of so-called soft fiber binding twine, and operating in the name of International Harvester Company of America, as to the manufacture and sale of hard fiber binding twines and as to the manufacture and sale of harvesting machinery, resorts to practically every conceivable device or method of procedure in the way of bringing influence to bear upon local dealers throughout Minnesota, to prevent the sale of or restrict the sale of twine or machines not manufactured or sold by said International Harvester Company of New Jersey and exerts its full strength and power, everywhere, to discriminate against the sales of other manufacturers,—even to the extent, in some cases, as the evidence shows, of permitting or causing, its local selling agents to cause or lead farmers of Minnesota to believe that unless they purchase their binding twine from said International Harvester Company of New Jersey or its agents, they will be obliged to go without, and will not be furnished needed extra parts of binders and other machines, the manufacture and sale of which are controlled by said trust, so well and universally known to be required in all harvests of all years by all farmers in order that binders, mowers, etc., etc., hitherto purchased and now owned by them may continue to be useful and serviceable in harvest times of each year.

7. Section 5168 of the Revised Laws of 1905 expressly provides that any combination, corporate or otherwise, doing business in this state in restraint of trade, or in a way which tends, in any way or degree, to limit or fix or control or maintain or regulate the price of any article of trade or manufacture bought or sold within this state, or which limits or tends to limit the production of any such article, or which prevents or limits competition in either the purchase or the sale thereof, or tends or designs so to do, is unlawful; and that every person who does business in this state in violation of said section is guilty of a felony, etc., etc., and so it is recommended that the attention of the several county attorneys of the several counties of this state be invited to the character of the business operations in this state of said International Harvester Company of New Jersey,—and to section 5169 of said Revised Laws which exemplifies the duties of the several county attorneys in relation thereto.
